LIVELY CHASE.

Coon Hotfooted When the Marshal Wanted to Hold Private Conversation With Him.

THREE SHOTS FIRED AS HE FLED.

For several days City Marshal Iggleheart has been on the lookout for a smooth coon who is said to have held up and robbed a man at Guthrie.

Tuesday morning he sighted Gano Henderson, who answered the description and told him he wanted to talk with him a little. Instead of stopping to talk, however, the darky fled wildly down Railroad street in the direction of No. 9 with the city marshal in hot pursuit. Ever and again the marshal would fire a shot in the air with no other effect, however, than to accelerate the speed of the fleeing man. As he ran Gano pulled a 38 Smith & Wesson pistol from a holster and threw it away.

Finally he overtook wagon containing two men and one of them jumped out, caught and held him until the Marshal arrived. Gano was once employed in the culinary department of Lawrence Kilroy's restaurant and has been away from Earlington a short time. It is now known he is not the man wanted at Guthrie for highway robbery.

JESSE PHILLIPS

Withdraws and Jno. W. Twyman Enters Race for Magistrate in this District.

Jesse Phillips, who was recently elected to fill out the unexpired term as magistrate of this district has requested us to announce that he has withdrawn from the race for the Democratic nomination for justice of the peace of the Earlington district. He will fill out the unexpired term, but finds that his duties as cashier of the bank would conflict to such an extent that he regards it inadvisable to accept the full term although he appreciates the compliment of having no opposition.

Since Mr. Phillips' withdrawal Mr. Jno. W. Twyman has announced for the nomination.

An Evening With Miss Ashby.

Last Saturday evening at her home on Methodist Hill Miss Annie Ashby entertained a few of her friends at an informal flinch.

Ten games were played and a very pleasant evening passed all too quickly.

Very dainty refreshments were much enjoyed, and the friends adjourned at 11:15.

Jno. W. Twyman Announces as Candidate for Magistrate.

John W. Twyman is a candidate for magistrate in the Earlington district, subject to the action of the Democratic primary December 10. Mr. Twyman is one of the best democrats in this precinct and has always loyally supported the nominees of the party and helped to fight its battles here. He is a business man and in every way worthy and well qualified, and if nominated would command the respect and confidence of all parties in his district.

Cynthianna, Ky., Nov. 20.—Add Casey, son ex-Sheriff Tom Casey, who was defeated in the Democratic primary Saturday for County Judge, shot himself today. It is supposed that the dead was committed on account of depression over his father's close defeat. Young Casey is not expected to live.

BOOKER WASHINGTON

Gives Sensible Advice to His Race Concerning Their Actions in View of Election Returns.

Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 19.—In an address to the colored citizens, delivered here Monday night, Booker T. Washington said:

"Not a few have predicted that on account of the recent election many members of our race would lose their heads, would become unduly pompous, self-assertive and generally offensive. With all the earnestness that I can command I want to urge our people in every part of the country to disappoint those who have made such predictions by leading a life of increased usefulness, soberness and simplicity, remembering, as I have often explained before, that in the long run it is to certain fundamental ideals of growth in property, intelligence and high characteristics, together with the cultivation of friendly relations with our neighbors of all races, that we must look for our ultimate success."

"The masses of our people are to deal for all time in the South, and here it is that our destiny must be worked out, and we can only succeed when we have the confidence and co-operation of those about us."

KENTUCKY BOY IN

HULL FISHING FLEET.

Distinguished Himself in Rescuing Dead and Dying From the Crane.

Bowling Green, Ky., Nov. 17.—John Hauser, son of Mrs. Alice Hauser, of this city, was boatswain on the Gulf, one of the boats of the British fishing fleet which was fired on recently by the Russian squadron in the North Sea. He left home four years ago but is still quite young.

He has written home to his mother that he was uninjured, but had a rather narrow escape, as the Gulf was in the line of the firing, and near the Crane, the boat which was so badly damaged and whose skipper and third hand were killed. He also sent copies of the Hull (England) papers, which show that young Hauser distinguished himself as boatswain of the Gulf in rescuing the dead and dying from the sinking Crane. He had been with the fishing fleet for eighteen months.

Cynthianna, Ky., Nov. 20.—Add Casey, son ex-Sheriff Tom Casey, who was defeated in the Democratic primary Saturday for County Judge, shot himself today. It is supposed that the dead was committed on account of depression over his father's close defeat. Young Casey is not expected to live.

Thanksgiving.

"God hath been very good," Tis He who hand molded the sunny hills and hollowed out the shelter of the valleys, and doth keep the fountains in their secret places cool; and it is He who leadeth up the sun, and ordered the starry influences, and tempereth the keeness of the frost and therefore, in the plenty of the feast, and in the lifting of the cup, let His have praise for the well completed year.—N. P. Willis.

M. B. Cansler, who was employed as shooter at No. 11 mine, this place, was instantly killed Thursday night about 12 o'clock by falling slate in room 17 on East 8th entry.

A short time afterward he was missed, and, on going back to look for him, he was found buried under a large piece of gob or slate. They, with the assistance of others, removed the slate and the dead man's body was conveyed home. An examination revealed the fact that his limbs were broken and his head badly mashed.

SMALLPOX.

The State Board of Health has issued a warning against smallpox in which it is announced that cases of the disease are being reported in widely separated sections in many counties throughout the State, and of officials and citizens are urged to take the promptest means to prevent an epidemic. Startling facts are stated in the first paragraph of this address, as follows:

Since January, 1898, smallpox has prevailed, more or less extensively, in every county in Kentucky, with a total of over 100,000 cases and 300 deaths and costing in cash more than one-half million dollars, besides an estimated loss from interference with business and travel of something over one and one-half million dollars. Properly expended, this sum would have been more than enough to have guarded the health interests of our people for a generation, besides keeping every resident of the State vaccinated so that the existence of anything but an imported case of smallpox would have been impossible.

Vaccination and re-vaccination is urged, together with the immediate isolation of suspects. It is stated that grown people never have chicken-pox and that there are no such diseases as "elephant itch," "African itch," "army itch," "cedar itch," or "Cuban itch," but that these are merely vulgar names for mild varieties of small-pox. The use of humanized virus is recommended, "especially in country districts where the family physician can select it himself from the arms of healthy children and young girls." It is "more certain to take, causes less soreness, and is believed to give better and longer protection."

Just now Hopkins County is in good shape in this connection. The disease has been looked after carefully and kept under good control for several years past in Erlington, Madisonville and the other county towns. Our county and city health boards are active and well equipped. An occasional imported case has shown up in the county during the past few months but they have been promptly looked after. This is not the case everywhere. In Christian county the disease has been active for some time and cases originating there have turned up in Hopkins and Henderson counties and probably elsewhere. Under recent threat of quarantine, made by the State health board, compulsory vaccination has been ordered at Hopkinsville and throughout Christian county and the authorities there are now actively engaged in an effort to stop the spread and control the disease.

There is but one safeguard against smallpox, vaccination; and that is positive and safe. We endorse what the State Board says:

Every person in the State who has not already been vaccinated should do so at once, and the ignorant or negligent should be compelled to protect themselves, for the benefit of their communities, by the proper authorities.

OUR ELECTION TABLE.

A feature of this issue of THE BEE was crowded to the wall by demands on our advertising space last week. We refer to the official tabulated election returns for Hopkins county. This is our annual feature of general interest, for the reason that THE BEE has a long established record for exact accuracy in publication of official election returns, and strange as it may seem, has often been the only paper in the county to publish the election returns accurately. In addition to being alone in the fields of accuracy this year, THE BEE presents some very interesting comparisons with the vote in the gubernatorial election of 1903. These comparisons are made by precincts in the majorities and in the total vote cast by the Republicans and the Democrats in these two elections. In our issue of November 10th we showed as accurately as could be with the figures then at hand, how great had been the Democratic defection and how general the Republican gains in Hopkins county. But the figures were then neither complete nor accurate.

Today we present this information in tabulated form, so conveniently arranged that all may be seen at a glance. This is a good table to file away for future reference and will be of interest to all who are interested in county politics.

BURGLARS are but frail human beings and prone to err. Last week one entered the home of the editor of the Versailles paper.

A BOWLING GREEN boy was with the Hull fishing fleet when the Russian squadron "came, saw and conquered." The mystery will probably be explained by the discovery that the Kentuckian fired the first shot. He should have left his pocket gun at home.

LOCAL hunters who frequent the "possum preserves" should have more consideration for the valuable young forests that are so easily destroyed by fire from a carelessly handled camp. Hundreds of acres of woodland covered with young timber growth near Earlington have been rendered blackened wastes during the past week, and the most reasonable cause is camp fire sparks.

It is announced in a Washington dispatch that President Roosevelt has ordered an immediate investigation of the Standard Oil Company to determine whether it is an illegal combination in restraint of trade. The investigation is to be thorough, and the President hopes to prosecute it to a finish before his term expires. It is said that he has determined that the Standard Oil monopoly shall be broken, and that the investigation would have been begun last summer had he not feared his action would be criticized as prompted by political motives.

In 1900 President McKinley received 292 electoral votes; Mr. William Jennings Bryan, 155. McKinley's popular plurality was $6,000,000. This year President Roosevelt will receive 336 electoral votes; Judge Parker, 140. In Maryland seven votes go to Parker and one to Roosevelt. Roosevelt's popular plurality will be about 2,000,000. This has made such a deep impression on the public mind that the New York American says: "If the Filipinos had voted, it might have been worse," and the Washington Star rises to announce that "Mr. Bryan is a bigger man than ever in a party that is smaller than ever."

A Brilliant Spectacle.

One of the most brilliant spectacles presented this season will be produced by the Al G. Field Greater Minstrels and will consist of a Military Review of the country's history. It is called "Al G. Field's 'White Old Glory Waves,'" and consists of a series of magnificent tableaux representing the glorious incidents in all the wars in which the American volunteer has participated. These spectacles are accompanied by patriotic songs and the last tableau is a tribute to "Old Glory" and includes a drill of rough riders and the review of the uniforms they wore at the time. So massive is this feature that Mr. Field has been compelled to add an extra foot baggage car to carry it.

READ THIS LETTER FROM A GRATEFUL KENTUCKIAN

Princeton, Ky., Feb. 4th, 1904
I wish to state for all that I believe their great Remedy known as FOERG'S REMEDY CO., of Evansville, Indiana, saved my brother's life some ten years ago. He was suffering from a disease which he and I deemed he could get no relief until he took Dr. Foerg's Remedy same as manufactured by this company. After taking the Remedy he was entirely relieved of his trouble, and when he died he was in full possession of his faculties. I also took two bottles as a blood purifier and found much benefit.

The Century.

There is always one by which the rest are measured. In the magazine world, that one has always been and is today The Century. Ask writers where their best productions are first offered; ask editors which magazine they had rather conduct; ask public men where articles carry most influence; ask artists where they would prefer to be represented; ask the public what magazine is the first choice among people of real influence, and the answer to each question is the same: "The Century." Are you going to have the best in 1905?

AT THE FIRST SIGN Of Distracting Humors Use CUTICURA

Every child born into the world with an inherited tendency to torturing, distrusting humors, the Skin or Scalp, becomes an object of the most tender solicitude, not only because of its suffering, but because of the dreadful fear that the disfigurement is to be lifelong and mar its future happiness and prosperity. Hence it becomes the duty of mothers of such afflicted children to acquire themselves with the best, the purest, and most effective treatment available, viz.: the CUTICURA Treatment, consisting of warm baths with CUTICURA Soap, and gentle anointings with CUTICURA Ointment, the great Skin Cure. Cures made in childhood are speedy, and will positively cure all such troubles.

A certain lady, the unfortunate possessor of a cork leg, was wood and won. One day soon after the marriage she had the curiosity, during her husband's temporary absence, to open a wadropore that he had always kept tightly fastened and found therein, to her horror, two wooden legs, one labeled with the name of lady, carefully stowed away on one of the shelves. Aghast with fear she hastened to the house of mutual acquaintances, to whom she confided her gruesome discovery, only to be assured that, although the false limbs were those of her husband's former wives, there was no cause for alarm. Her husband, the friends explained, had originally wedded a one legged lady, and so happy had been the marriage that on her death he had vowed never again to save with a wife similarly situated. A short time afterwards met a lady, whom, as she fulfilled the requisite stipulation, he courted and won. His second marriage, which turned out even more felicitous than his first venture, had caused him, on his beloved partner's decease, to renew his former vow, the outcome of which had resulted in his present happy union. This explanation calmed the wife's fears and she returned home a happy woman.

A BIT OF CHINESE HUMOR.

Illustrative of the Slyness of the Mongolian Under All Circumstances.

Here is a typical example of a Chinese funny story: A passenger boat full of people was on the point of starting when a man who had been running up in hot haste and asked to be taken on board. "There's no room; we can't take you," answered the boatman. But he was not to be put off so easily. "If you won't take me, I will tell you a tale." The passenger began to discuss the situation. "We have nothing to do," they said to each other, "and it's very tedious. If we were to tell you a story it would always be the time." Accordingly (regarding as to the number of passengers being by the means strict (the flowers land) the applicant was allowed to come on board. The passengers squeezed closer and as managed to make room for him, proving the truth of the German adage: "Many patient steps in the right direction."

After giving the newcomer a little breathing time they asked for the promised story. Without hesitation he began: "Ch'a Ch'o once led 80,000 men (infantry and cavalry) to the seat of the Yangtze. Ch'a Ch'o was a famous Chinese general who lived in the time of the Han dynasty, about the beginning of the Christian era and whose deeds of prowess still related with great gusto among his fellow countrymen. "Their was a certain story-teller, and they had to cross a river by bridge which consisted of a single plank. They crossed over one by one." Here the narrator began to make noises which were supposed to represent the trampling of the steeds: "Teh-teh-teh" That was all till his audience grew rather tired of it.

At last some one said: "Please go on with the story." "You must wait for them to cross the bridge," was the answer. "When $30,000 men and horses have to cross a one-plain bridge, it's difficult to get across. You must be careful or they might fall into the water," and he calmly resumed his "teh-teh-teh." Again his audience pleaded for a continuation of the story, but again he declined to be hurried. "Tell me the next few years the fruit crops fell to a minimum, and for a short time," he said; "they must go slowly and carefully." So he went on with his "teh-teh-teh," and, however much he was urged, he would say nothing else. So the boat reached its destination and the story was never finished, because Ch'a Ch'o's arms had not yet had time to cross the bridge.

POLITICIANS OF POMPEII.

They Were Candidates in Those Days Run by Factors as in Our Times.

Recently Joseph Offord read a paper before the Society for the Encouragement of the Fine Arts in which he described what must have been a munificent election in Pompeii shortly before the eruption of Mount Vesuvius. The eruption overwhelmed it and Herculaneum. It is the claims of candidates, says the Boston Transcript, that we read in these strange and long undecipherable inscriptions on the walls. It is the Pompeian way of announcing: "For mayor, Michael J. Gracchus, the friend of la-bor."

Some of these placards are rudely done. Some are set forth with skill and embellishments. One of them contains a bit of street car health food verse—all painted in red. No less than our own candidates of to-day, those of the year '76 were put forward by parties in opposition. There were the trades' interests. There was the money power to be venerated on the stump. The slaves were addressed as "friends" and the citizens as "friends" and the workers, the tanners, the performers and dyers, the barbers and tailors. He explained to them what were the mere rights of man and what were their more glorious privileges as free and united advocates of the six-hour day.

And there were fadists in those days—persons to whom South Boston would apply the epithet "bughouse." These were the long sleepers, the deep drinkers. They ran a candidate in common with the slaves. He intended to impress street nobles with the chief plank in their platform was a club sandwich.

Inquisitive Farmer.

In each telephone receiver there is a bit of granulated carbon that looks not unlike gunpowder.

The other day, near Huntington, W. Va., an inquisitive farmer took his telephone to pieces to see what it was made of. He applied the granulated carbon, which stuck together like gunpowder.

He thought it must necessarily be nothing else. Wherefore he got down his powder horn and filled up the gun with gunpowder.

TOO MUCH RESIGNATION.

Humble Philosopher Who Learned That the Wisest Cannot Avoid Their Fate.

Bishop Cortland Whitehead, of Pennsylvania, was talking about resignation, says the New York Tribune.

"This attitude of mind," he said, "can hardly be carried too far. I rather think, though, that in the case of the poor old woman, her farm hand and alarm clock would have served better than the excessive resignation with which he displayed."

Ocean Egg Boilers.

The automatic egg boilers on ocean craft are destined to cook 200 eggs at once, a clock arrangement causing the basket containing the eggs to hop out of the water at half minute up to six minutes.

Keepers of the Crops.

The keepers of a certain fruit section of California once got into an alteration about pasturage for their bees, and, as a result, beekeeping was abolished in that part of the state.

"Accordingly, the philosopher was aroused again by a great deluge of cold water."

"But his spirit of resignation was not at all disturbed."

"This incident teaches us," he said, as he took off his wet clothes, "that even the fruit grower should keep at least a few colonies of bees to insure the proper fertilization of his fruit blossoms."

—Country Life in America.

Pay of Lobster Fishers.

Rock Island (Me.) lobster dealer, who ships extensively to the south and west, has kept a careful tabulation of the price in the last four years to find that the fisherman has been receiving a steady increase. In 1909 the smacks or middlemen paid to the fishermen an average of 12.85 cents a lobster. In 1910 the price jumped to 13.12 cents. The next year it was 15.83 cents, and last year it was 17.16 cents. The minimum price paid during the period was about nine cents and the maximum price 25 cents.

Making of a Soldier.

"So you're going to Europe. Do you think you'll be seabiscuit?"
"Not much! I've swung around on the straps of a crowded steerage car four times a day for years. I'm used to a rough voyage."—Detroit Free Press.

Russian Embalming
To preserve the features of the dead it is performed by a Russian to embalm bodies by casting around them a solid mass of glass. The inventor of this process hopes that some day we will have a large museum filled with the perfectly preserved bodies of the great men of their time for future generations to gaze upon.

Tobacco Ash Wasted
It has been calculated that 9,000 tons of tobacco ash is annually wasted in England. It would make an invaluable fertilizer for poor soil, considering that 75 per cent consists of calcium and potassium salts, and 15 per cent of magnesium and sodium salts, including nearly five per cent of the organic constituents to all plants—phosphoric acid.

ON THE DEATH OF MAURICE CONNERS, OF EARLINGTON, KY.

He is gone, fond ones are mourning,
 For he will return no more;
 He is gone beyond returning—
 Gone to that echoless shore.
 Wife and children are grieving
 For him who went so soon.
 Suddenly, his leaving,
 Just as Manhood's noon.

He is gone, but long they'll remember
 The husband and father dear.

Who was laid away this November
 In his bed so dark and drear;

That bed, with its heavy cover,
 By which often will weep,
 For till life's sad day is over,
 Memory of him'll keep.

The children who ran to meet him
 When the day's work was o'er,
 With kind, loving words to greet him,

Will meet him now no more,
 He is gone, beyond returning,
 From each little girl and boy,
 But while they for him are mourning.

May we rejoice with great joy,
 May joy to their father be given—
 And may those when life's ties are given.

Go to that home of love—
 That home where there is never sorrow.

Never tears, pain, pr strife;

May he, on some glorious morrow,
 There greet children and wife.

LYCEUM COURSE OPENED.

"Cyclone" Southern Lecture Given—

Bright and Humorous Attractions to Follow.

The first number on the program of the Earlington Lyceum Course was presented Tuesday evening at Temple Theatre when Edwin "Cyclone" Souther delivered his singular and striking lecture, "If I Were the Devil." The hearing was distinctively good. The audience was distinctly that a serious type of lecture is not what our amusement-loving people seek. From those who were present numerous expressions of approval are heard, however, and such expression carries with it the greater encouragement of an enlarged and a more appreciative hearing for the attractions that are to follow. The inauguration of a new lyceum course is always a difficult undertaking and the mistake was made to begin with a lecture of seious character.

The next attraction in the course Booth Lowrey, humorist, satirist, reader, impersonator, about whom

Ex-Gov. "Bob" Taylor says: "Those who hear him go away with aching sides and tear-stained faces." Following him will be Eugene Laurent, magician; the Professor and Groom and Smith, The Royal Entertainers; and the Chicago Glee Club. These are full of the best and most amusing and elevating of entertainment. Season tickets for the remaining attractions can be secured from the committee or at the St. Bernard store.

The Best Liniment.

"Chamberlain's Pain Balm is considered the best liniment on the market," writes Post & Bliss of Georgia, Ga. No other liniment will heal a cut or bruise so promptly. Other brands are quick to act, but none are so valuable for deep seated pains like lame back and pains in the chest. Give this liniment a trial and you will never wish to be without it.

Died, Nov. 17, at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. P. Dolan, Mrs. C. Connors in the 74th year of her age. Mrs. Connors was one of the earliest settlers at this place. She was born in Ireland, died in Ireland; but came to this country very young. With her at the time of her death were all her children—three sons and three daughters. The funeral of Mrs. Connors was held from the Catholic church with requiem mass at 9 o'clock this morning. A very large congregation was in attendance. The music by the choir was very nice and splendidly rendered. Interment in Catholic cemetery.

The above was the mother of Mrs. Morris Coninars, of this place.

MINING NOTES.BRIQUETTE MANUFACTURE

Problem Fails of Solution at Government Plant at St. Louis.

ALL YET IN EXPERIMENTAL STAGE.

Among the most interesting tests made by the government at the fuel-testing plant of the United States Geological Survey, at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition, are the attempts at successful manufacture of briquettes from various American coals. A report of the Department of the Interior gives this account of the tests made:

The operation of the briqueting plants has been most interesting, as it has shown that there are many problems involved in this really pioneer work which require more careful study than is possible under the conditions under which these plants are operated. As this is almost entirely pioneer work in the utilization of American coals, not only must each coal be carefully studied, but the character of the binder, the heats to which the material should be subjected, and the pressure to be placed upon the briquette, are all matters of individual research.

It was not until September 23 that the plant of English manufacture was in condition for operation. Considerable difficulty was encountered with the binding material which had been provided for the purpose. This was coal-tar pitch furnished by the Barrett Manufacturing Company and was found to be rather too hard for the coals with which it was desired to use it, and for the heat which it was possible to obtain in the steam-jacketed reservoir attached to the machine and used for this purpose.

After experimenting for a week it was found necessary to close down the plant for alterations and repairs. On October 3 experimental work was begun on a cargo of pitch received from the Chatfield Manufacturing Company, of Cincinnati, Ohio. This pitch also was found to be too hard for successful use under existing conditions. The plant installed by the National Compressed Fuel Company was given a trial on September 27, but mechanical difficulties developed which necessitated changes, and it was not until October 10 that a successful run was made. This plant has the advantage of permitting tests to be made on small quantities of material, but the binder must be added in liquid form after being melted in the steam-jacketed tank. This limits its use to the more fusible binders, and has prevented any tests with the pitch now on hand.

From September 23 to October 8, nine briqueting tests were made. In some of these the results were satisfactory, but in most cases it was demonstrated that much more study will have to be given to the character of the coal, the binding material, etc., before a really successful commercial briquette can be made.

The Greasy Creek Mineral Company of Bell county, filed articles of incorporation with the Secretary of State at Frankfort, Ky., last Friday. The capital stock is $5,000 and the incorporators are H. N. Camp, George W. Ingram and R. C. Ford all of Middlesboro.

A party of Pennsylvania capitalists were in Henderson last week prospecting for coal and mineral lands in that vicinity. The gentlemen composing the party were representatives of some of the largest coal companies in their state and it is said that they were sent to Kentucky in search of new locations.

SHOT FROM AMBUSH

Wm. Lang, Superintendent of Coal Mines at Blocton, Ala., is Dead From Assassin's Bullet.

Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 17.—The Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad Company has offered a reward of $5,000 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the party or parties who shot William Lang, superintendent of the coal mines at Blocton Saturday evening last. Mr. Lang died today. He was shot from ambush and the suspicion seems to be that the act was that of a union miner. Mr. Lang being especially objectionable to the craft now working the mines on the open shop basis.

The same night that Mr. Lang was wounded T. C. Williamson, a guard at another mine, was also shot from ambush and wounded, but will recover. It is understood that the Tennessee Company will make special private efforts to run down the man who fired the shots. The offer of $5,000 reward was made by the directors of the company in New York.

For years I had been greatly bothered with kidney and bladder trouble and enlarged prostate gland. I had consulted several physicians without relief, until I commenced to use Foley's Kidney Cure.
